Development of the W. Walt Wilkins 2022 Anti-Drug Calendar

The Covid Pandemic has continued to affect the production of our 2022 Anti-Drug Calendar though not nearly as much as last year. The number of schools participating went back up and the number of entries substantially increased. We were not, however, able to have the awards ceremony due to restrictions on the public entrance into the Greenville County Courthouse.

We are proud of the outstanding artwork submitted by the students and pleased to once again have the our judges from The Greenville Technical College Department of Visual and Performing Arts. The grand-prize winner, whose poster is the cover of the calendar, received $300.00, each grade winner received $200.00 and the other finalist each received $100.00.

We are again partnering with Just Say Something in support of their Red Ribbon Campaign. We are happy to be working with this organization and believe they are making a difference in their work educating families and helping students remain drug free.

The effort of each participating student is greatly appreciated and our only regret is that all submitted entries could not be published in the calendar. The calendar was made possible by these students and their teachers. Our thanks go out each and every one of them and to everyone who participated in making the calendar possible.

A Message From the Solicitor:

Dear Students,

Thank you for your submissions to the 2022 Anti-Drug Poster Calendar Competition. They were fantastic! I did not think it was possible to top the submissions from last year, but you all have done it. I am impressed by not only the artistic talent exhibited in the submissions but also by the clever and perceptive messages being delivered by the submissions. Thank you for each and every submission and to everyone who participated in the 2022 Anti-Drug Poster Calendar Competition.

Each of our lives has been impacted by the current pandemic, and as your Solicitor, it is refreshing for me to see our young people understand the impact drugs have in our community. The impact drugs have is not limited to just the person who made the bad decision to use drugs. The impact of drug addiction is felt by each person's family, their friends, and many other people in our community. Drugs do not care about someone's age, race, gender, or where they come from. Drugs will cause their negative impact to anyone.

As your Solicitor, it is my job to prosecute the drug offenses in Greenville and Pickens Counties. Since the beginning of the Coronavirus pandemic, we have seen the special challenges and stress that this pandemic has placed on each and every one of us, particularly each of you students as you have navigated disrupted school schedules, sports opportunities and time with your friends and families. The risk for substance abuse is greater now than ever. But you have risen to the occasion, shown steadfast resiliency and we are all better for it. Your submissions show your vision for a drug-free future and how we can overcome the risks of substance abuse and to keep one another safe. Together, we will be able to keep drugs out of our community.

We all possess the ability to effect change in our own or someone else's life. If you or someone you know is struggling with substance abuse, there are resources available to help with the situation. Please do not hesitate to reach out. I appreciate all of the time and effort put into each submission for the 2022 Anti-Drug Poster Calendar Competition. I know that when we work together, we are capable of great results. I look forward to working with you to rid our community of drug use and abuse.

W. Walter Wilkins
Solicitor, Thirteen Judicial Circuit

Warning Signs:

How can you tell if your child is abusing drugs or alcohol?

There is no single telltale pattern, experts say - especially since the teenage years often produce unpredictable behavior changes. There are, however, some tip-offs that your child may be struggling, including:

- Chronic eye redness, sore throat and/or dry cough.
- Chronic lying or unusual secrecy.
- Trouble in school or with the law, such as stealing.
- Deteriorating relationships with family and friends.
- Wild mood swings, hostility or abusive behavior.
- Chronic fatigue, withdrawal, carelessness about personal hygiene.
- Major changes in eating or sleeping patterns.
- Changes in grades, including increased grades due to misuse of stimulants.

A Message From Just Say Something:

Dear Parents,

Red Ribbon Week is the perfect opportunity for parents and grandparents to start and continue important conversations about drugs and alcohol that will lead to healthier choices and stronger connections with their children. Research proves that parents have the greatest influence on their children's decision about using drugs and we have the most influence in the early years. Time is precious to everyone and it is the most valuable resource we can share with our children. Teachable moments occur every day and parents should see these as the opportunity to talk to their children about tough subjects such as drugs, alcohol, and other challenges they will face. What you say doesn't have to be perfect; it just has to be honest, from the heart, and in their best interest.

Now, during this pandemic is a perfect time to talk about the anxiety and fear they may be experiencing and the role they play in our lives at any age. For some, it is a time when they will make poor and unhealthy decisions to seek relief or escape from those feelings. There is another epidemic taking place and it is a drug epidemic. You have so many opportunities to establish a great communication connection with your children right now as it relates to being healthy and keeping their bodies and brains clear and protected against all kinds of threats and epidemics. You should know everything there is to know about your child -- their likes and dislikes, their favorite subject(s), what they like to do for fun, who their friends are, and their friends' parents, etc. Parents and grandparents are in the unique position of spending time every day with their children so they have the ability to have ongoing conversations about the dangers of substance use and other risky behaviors. So while you are spending time together staying safe, the timing is perfect to talk with them in order to protect your child and help them live life to the fullest and free of substance use and addiction. Visit our website www.justsaysomething.org, it may help.

Thank you for helping our children to choose a healthy, substance-free future.

Sincerely,
Carol A Reeves, Director/CEO, Just Say Something

If you suspect your child is taking drugs, here's what you can do:

- Do not blame yourself.
- Do not confront a child under the influence of alcohol or another drug, but instead wait until they are sober to discuss your suspicions calmly and objectively.....
- Set rules and firm standards and impose consequences when they are broken.
- Seek evaluations from health and medical professionals.
