Re: Privacy and Confidentiality of Discovery

If you are the Defense Attorney of record for a defendant, please be advised the documents and/or videos you access are being produced in accordance with criminal discovery rules and may contain personal identifying and/or sensitive information protected from public disclosure under applicable privacy and confidentiality laws. By accessing this system, you acknowledge these privacy concerns and your responsibility to ensure non-disclosure and non-dissemination of any protected personal identifying information (PII) and/or sensitive information to a third-party. Protected information may include, but is not limited to, dates of birth, physical addresses, Social Security numbers, credit card or bank account numbers, and telephone numbers for any witness, victim, or defendant. Additionally, you could be provided documents, photographs and/or videos containing juveniles or information related to juveniles and you understand you should not disseminate this information to any third parties without the redaction of all sensitive and/or personal identifying information.
