

that may be required for the support and management of said business, and that all gains, profit and increase that shall come, grow, or arise from or by means of their said business, shall be divided between them equally and all loss that shall happen to the said joint business, by ill commodities, bad debts, or otherwise, shall be borne and paid between them equally.

6. It is agreed by and between the parties, that there shall be had and kept at all times during the continuance of their copartnership, perfect, just and true books of account; that said books are to be kept by Ethel K. Gaffney, showing all money by them or either of them received, paid, laid out, and expended in and about the said business, and all other matter and things whatsoever to the said business and the management thereof belonging; which said books shall be used in common between the said copartners, so that either of them may have access thereto, without any interruption of the other. And said copartners, once in six months, or oftener, if necessary, shall make, yield, and render, each to the other, a true, just, and perfect inventory and account of all profits and increase by them or either of them made; and of all losses by them or either of them sustained; and also, all payments, disbursements, receipts, and all other things by them made, received, disbursed, acted, done, or suffered in the said copartnership and business; and the same account so made, shall and will clear, adjust, pay, and deliver, each to the other, at the time, their just share of profits so made as aforesaid.

7. It is understood and agreed by and between the parties, that this copartnership may be dissolved upon thirty days' written notice by one, or either of the parties to the other, or earlier upon mutual agreement of the parties; that upon the death of either of the parties the rightful heirs of the deceased party will have an option to continue in the business or dissolve the partnership as they may choose.

8. The said parties hereby mutually covenant and agree, to and with each other, that during the continuance of said copartnership, neither of them shall nor will endorse any note, or otherwise become surety for any person or persons whomsoever, without the consent of the other of the said partners. And at the termination of their copartnership, the
