

interfere with any effort that either may make to procure a divorce, provided that in doing so no charges derogatory to the character are made against the defendant or respondent in such proceeding.

The said parties above named hereby agree to live separate and apart, it being the purpose of this instrument to settle forever all claims and liabilities by either against the other, growing out of their said relation as husband and wife.

In consideration of the covenants herein expressed and the considerations passing from one to the other, the said Clyde R. Duckett hereby releases and renounces forever any and all claims that he may have under law or otherwise in and to the real and/or personal property of the said Eunice K. Duckett, growing out of or in any way accruing to him by operation of law or by reason of their marital relation as aforesaid, and to at no time disturb or interfere with her in her private life, or in the occupancy of the properties hereinbefore referred to and transferred to her.

3
D.D.
C.R.
C.C.

Each party to this separation agreement, in consideration of the properties and relinquishment of rights as hereinabove enumerated, does hereby expressly relinquish and forever surrender all right of inheritance to any properties of the other by operation of law or under statutory provisions in any state or country, in the event either should die intestate or should for any cause have his or her properties distributed.

It is expressly understood that all accounts are balanced as between the parties, and neither is indebted to the other in any sum on the date of the execution of this instrument, which forever terminates the marital status and all obligations and benefits in any way arising therefrom.