

Personally appeared before me Jane S. Thompson who after being duly sworn deposes and says that she is the widow of L. H. Thompson who died intestate in the year 1914. That during her marriage with L. H. Thompson there were born unto L. H. Thompson and deponent seven(7) children all of whom survived the said L. H. Thompson, to-wit: three sons, Sherman C. Thompson, Alvin M. Thompson, Lowell Benton Thompson, and 4 daughters, Ollie Thompson Plumbley, Annie Burns, Grace Hester and Lola Stella Thompson Cox. That Lowell Benton Thompson died intestate October 6, 1946, leaving surviving him his wife, Inez Carnes Thompson and a daughter Bobbie Jean Thompson, both of whom live in Hammond, Indiana. That Lola Stella Thompson Cox died intestate January 29, 1936, leaving surviving her, her husband, Albert J. Cox, a daughter, Lucille C. Bayne, and two sons, Frank C. Cox and James T. Cox. That subsequent to the death of Lola Stella Thompson Cox, her husband, Albert J. Cox, remarried and then died intestate November 13, 1947, leaving surviving him, his wife, Elizabeth Williams Cox, now Elizabeth C. Stamey, and children, Lucille C. Bayne, Frank C. Cox and James T. Cox.

That when L. H. Thompson died he owned 30.1 acres of land in Saluda Township. That his estate was never probated and the ownership of the land has passed to his heirs and to his heirs' heirs until now Jane S. Thompson, Sherman C. Thompson, Alvin M. Thompson, Inez Carnes Thompson, Bobbie Jean Thompson, Ollie Thompson Plumbley, Annie Burns, Grace Hester, Lucille C. Bayne, Frank C. Cox, James T. Cox and Elizabeth C. Stamey all have an interest in the said land. That all of these persons claiming an interest in the said land are over 21 years of age and there are no other persons living or dead that have an interest in the said land.

That deponent further deposes and says that she knows all of the a-forestated facts to be true of her own knowledge.

Sworn to before me this 14th day of May, 1960.
