this Court for final hearing on December 18, 1967, at which time the parties, their witnesses and attorneys appeared before me. After a long and extensive hearing, and after considering the evidence and testimony of all parties, this Court finds that the material allegations of the Plaintiff's Complaint are true and correct and that she is entitled to the relief sought therein. The Court further finds that the evidence does not support, in any way, the allegations of the Defendant's counterclaim and that the said Counterclaim should be denied. It should be noted that prior to the final hearing, in August, 1967, the Plaintiff became eligible for Social Security benefits in the amount of Thirty Six ($36.00) Dollars and that she has continued to receive such benefits since that date. The evidence also establishes the fact that the parties are receiving a check from the purchaser of their home in Greenville, South Carolina, in the amount of Fifty Eight and 30/100 ($58.30) Dollars per month and that the Plaintiff has been receiving this amount since the time the parties separated. These monthly payments will continue for some seven to eight years or until such time as the second mortgage executed by the purchaser of the home formerly owned by the parties in Greenville, South Carolina, is satisfied. Under the evidence in this case, this Court is of the clear and firm opinion that the Plaintiff should be allowed to receive and retain the monthly check of Fifty Eight and 30/100 ($58.30) Dollars and that the Defendant should be required to pay to the Plaintiff as support and maintenance the additional sum of Fifty ($50.00) Dollars per month and that the question of future support and maintenance should remain open and before this Court. The Court further finds that the Defendant should be required to
